First, I want to thank my incredible daughter, Talene, who encouraged me, stood by me, walked with me, and never gave up on me as I was journeying through my season of hurting no more. You are my best friend, the love of my life, the most treasured gift God has given me. I love you, my sweet child!

To my sister, Shawna, who said this memorable phrase to me after I left my abusive husband—“This is just a cake walk compared to what you went through.” Those words have encouraged me during some of the most difficult times in my life. Thank you for all your love and wisdom, Sis. I love you!

To my brother, Mark, whose words of love and support were what I needed to fight to hurt no more. Always the “big” brother, you stood up for me and fought for me when I couldn’t. I love you, Mark.

To Mike and Norma, my spiritual mentors, roomies, and best friends: You are my heroes. Thank you for believing in me, praying for me, and giving me the freedom to follow my calling. Thank you for helping me to discover my true identity, and guiding and supporting me. You’ve ruined me for anything less in life than the miraculous. May God richly reward you, my dear friends. I love you so much!

To Pastors Reggie, Mary, Kim, and Myrene: I am in awe of how your God-given love for me allowed you to stand beside me as I journeyed through my deep healing. Your love, inspiration, and spiritual guidance are the reason I hurt no more. May the Lord bless you all, above and beyond.

To my son, Joshua: I appreciate your love, support, and encouragement. It is valued beyond words. You fought through some difficult times and persevered. But even more, you’ve taken what you’ve learned and helped others. You are so precious to me. I love you dearly.

To my editor, Diane: I think you walk on water! Thank you for your help in making my words flow and sound beautiful. I love you, dear friend.

To my book cover designer, Brenna: The cover of this book is a true reflection of the beauty I see in you. May the Lord bless you richly for helping to bring my vision to life. I love you, dear one.

To Stephanie, my indexer from Indexing Solutions: What a gift you are! Thank you for contributing to the creation of this book. May the Lord give back to you in great abundance, my precious friend.

To my Father, Savior, Lord Jesus Christ, my hope and redeemer: To You be the glory! I love you, Lord.

My heart's desire is to thank all who have impacted my life in extraordinary ways, but it would be impossible to list everyone. So, to each of you, thank you, thank you, thank you! I love you all.
